Pitchly

A powerful platform that transforms data into content & assets

When data is spread across several disconnected locations, teams waste time and become frustrated with data chaos. Pitchly is a flexible SaaS platform created to help employees activate data to solve everyday information, content creation and document generation needs.

With Pitchly, you have a single, centralized library of data that is easy to access. Pitchly creates content from a data feed, updates existing content with new information, and generates a dynamic library of content using smart templates and workflows.

Our powerful platform offers multiple multifunctional apps that can be activated to transform your data into the compelling assets you need.

How the Pitchly platform benefits you:

✓ Save time collecting and using data

✓ Speed time to pitch

✓ Simplify data collection across departments

✓ Protect sensitive information

✓ Easily filter your data in seconds

Pitchly reduces content production time by 93%
by collecting and using data to power content creation processes

Pitchly Platform Apps

The new and improved Pitchly platform is supported by a full suite of high-powered apps that fuel your data and content productivity.

Data Workspaces
Centralize and connect your data in single or multiple workspaces, empowering your team to access and search all relevant data, no matter the originating source.
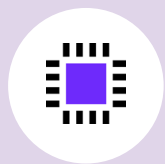

Elements
Pitchly Elements is our content creation app, giving your team the tools to enable your data, automatically generating content that updates itself as the data changes.

Forms
Streamline your data collection processes, helping you gather data from those closest to the work. No emails or instant messages are necessary.

AI Assist
Take the most tedious data tasks off your plate with the power of our new Pitchly AI Assist.

Documents
Export your data-driven content in your chosen format. Access smart data-connected content templates to create relevant, compelling custom assets.

Get Started Today
The future of work is data driven. Automatically generate pitch materials with data and technology. To learn more or request a demo, visit us at www.pitchly.com.